

PERMISSION TO DISTRIBUTE TRANSCRIPT DATA

TalkBank
Carnegie Mellon University

Carnegie Mellon University, an educational institution located in Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, through Brian MacWhinney, as Professor, Department of Psychology, College of Humanities and Social Sciences of the University, is developing a data-sharing system known as TalkBank that was established through federal and foundation grants. TalkBank now includes the Child Language Data Exchange System (CHILDES) as one of its components. For TalkBank to function properly, many contributors will give the system permission to distribute their transcripts and audio and video data to other researchers. The level of distribution permitted will be in accord with the permissions granted by the subjects through informed consent in the United States or through similar procedures in other countries.

With a full understanding of the aforementioned, I hereby give permission to Brian MacWhinney and the TalkBank system to make and circulate copies of the language transcripts and recordings that I describe under (1) and (2) below. TalkBank may distribute these data to scholars and other responsible parties in accord with the level of access I have specified in (3). If I have specified that the data should be anonymized, TalkBank will work with me to remove all references that might identify particular participants.

I warrant that there are no other restrictions that have been placed on the use of this data by any university committee, and further warrant that neither I nor anyone associated with the gathering and dissemination of this information retain a U.S. or foreign copyright restriction over the transcripts being circulated. Any further restrictions that I wish to place on the use of these data are listed under (3) below. I do not hold Brian MacWhinney or Carnegie Mellon responsible for the enforcement of these further restrictions, and I indemnify and render harmless both Brian MacWhinney and Carnegie Mellon University against any actions at law or in equity or in similar courts of any jurisdictions arising from violations of these restrictions.

An update of the citation with a more recent publication will follow.

I do not hold either Carnegie Mellon University or Brian MacWhinney responsible for matters involving the use of the data by members of TalkBank. Further, I indemnify and hold harmless Brian MacWhinney and Carnegie Mellon University from any and all actions at law or in equity or in a similar court in any jurisdiction which might arise from my having given permission to allow said material to be copied, circulated, and used by members of TalkBank.

THROUGH TALKBANK
Carnegie Mellon University

Carnegie Mellon University is participating in a data-sharing program known as TalkBank that was established through federal and foundation grants. For the program to function properly, many contributors will be asked to and will give permission for their work to be made available to other researchers. With a full understanding of the aforementioned, I hereby give permission to Brian MacWhinney, Director of the Center of the Child Language Data Exchange System at Carnegie Mellon University, to make and circulate electronic copies of the language transcripts and media that I describe below. These copies may be distributed to scholars and other responsible parties. I warrant that this use of the data is in accord with Human Subjects review procedures at my institution. I also warrant that there is no copyright restriction over the transcripts and media being circulated. Any further restrictions that I wish to place on the use of these data are listed under (2) below. I do not hold Brian MacWhinney or Carnegie Mellon responsible for the enforcement of these further restrictions and indemnify and render harmless both Brian MacWhinney and Carnegie Mellon University against any actions at law or in equity or in similar courts of any jurisdictions arising from violations of these restrictions.

1. General description of the data set.

2. Restrictions to be placed on the use of the data:

RE: Permission to Distribute Transcript Data

Dear Kelley,

As a reply to your electronic request of permission to distribute transcript data, please find the completed form attached as well as a copy of the email for your reference. Since the most significant piece of work analyzing these data published up to now is my doctoral dissertation, I have included this citation in the form. A revised and expanded version of my dissertation should be published as a book in the near future. I will send you the updated information when it is available.

Thank you very much for your effort.

Best wishes,

María Jesús Pérez-Bazán
